

ARMY MEN ARE BUSY

Army Men Think They Are Hampering Work of U. S. Wireless in Mexico.

Douglas, Ariz., March 22.—On the report that amateur wireless stations along the border have been picking up radio messages from Gen. Funston's headquarters, the government officials here have started an investigation. The activity of these nonprofessionals is also given as one of the reasons why the wireless outfit with the expeditionary force has been working so badly the past two days. No arrests have been made, but stations put up by several boys have been dismantled. Whether army of the army messages have been caught and interpreted by Mexican operators, however, is not known.

Rumors circulating in the town that Gen. Calles had been concentrating a large number of troops at Chihuahua, 15 miles south of here, and at other points in northeastern Sonora are pronounced baseless both by the American and Mexican authorities. Not more than 800 Mexican soldiers are at Chihuahua, it was officially stated, while the total number stationed in eastern Sonora, including those guarding the mountain passes along the Chihuahua border, does not exceed 2500 men.

Trooper Robert Kettle of the first cavalry, who attempted suicide two days ago, is improving slightly with a chance of recovery, according to the army surgeons.

AUTO WATER WAGONS.
The train out of Chicago bearing the equipment of motor trucks for carrying water is scheduled to arrive in Columbus, N. M., on a 52-hour schedule, or a record rate for shipments of this character. The train is expected to be in the campaign being waged by Gen. Pershing against Villa and are supposed to have left Chicago on Tuesday night.

U. S. DISCOURAGES AGITATION OF VOLUNTEERS FOR MEXICO

Washington, D. C., March 22.—The disposition of the administration to discourage agitation of the Mexican situation in congress was evidenced by chairman Stone of the senate foreign relations committee, who sent a telegram from Yankton, offering a company of men to the army. Senator Snoot, Republican, answered with the following senator. He said he had received many similar telegrams and deemed it his duty to refer them to the war department.

The introduction of communications of this kind at this time are rather ill advised, said senator Stone. "The situation in Mexico as we all know, is acute and whatever tends to add to the acuteness of that situation, I regard as something that had better left alone."

MEXICO'S CHIEF COUNSEL ASSESTS

Declares People Generally Support Carranza and Are Friendly to the U. S.

Edouardo Serano Bravo, vice consul for Mexico in El Paso, returned last evening from Guadaluajara. Mr. Serano was on his way to Eagle Pass from central Mexico when word was received of the passage of the American troops on the punitive expedition against Villa.

"I saw the first chief," said Mr. Serano, "while traveling between Queretaro and Guadaluajara. He had received at that time the news of the Villa raid upon Columbus and was with the secretary of foreign affairs, Sr. Jesus Acuna. Neither Gen. Carranza nor Sr. Acuna were alarmed at the intelligence, feeling confident that the relations between the two republics were sufficiently strong to avoid international complications."

"It was not my pleasure to see Gen. Carranza after the announcement was made of the passage of the American troops. I am confident that he has the support of the majority of the people in Mexico in the course he has adopted and that, though the situation has been tense and aggravated by unfortunate rumors, the problem will be adjusted."

"Gen. Carranza expressed great confidence in the work that Mr. Garcia has performed in tranquillizing the border situation and for his diplomatic handling of all matters that have come to him for decision. He also expressed confidence in Gen. Gaviña and his representatives in the northwest, where the principal Villa disturbances are located."

"I found conditions normal in central Mexico. There seemed to be an abundance of foodstuffs and a great deal of trading. I asked many merchants who they found business and they replied: 'It is fortunate for us that the revolution has not reached this section.'"

Conference in Field.
This statement followed a conference Wednesday afternoon between Gen. Bell, accompanied by his aides, and consul Andres Garcia, at the Mexican consulate, at which the general border situation was discussed and more particularly the question of the shipment of supplies to the Pershing forces over one of the Mexican railway lines.

Consul Garcia stated frankly after the conference that he knew of no arrangements whereby the lines of Mexico were to be used.

The Mexico North Western is a privately owned corporation operating under a Mexican charter, and while it is a common carrier and could reasonably carry supplies to the forces of Gen. Pershing, it could not make the transmission of freight for the punitive expedition or for any individual or company, if orders not to operate in this capacity were issued by the military authorities.

The fact that the United States troops are in Mexico for the purpose of assisting the de facto government in the running down of an international bandit, is intimated by persons at one time identified with the railroad, as being a legitimate reason for handling United States freight consigned to the expedition. It was also stated that if freight and consignments were turned over to the railway in that friendly capacity, there was no reason whatever for not making the hauls.

Carrancistas Fear to Test It.
It is said that the Carranza officials fear, however, to put the loyalty of their men to further test by allowing the United States any more privileges.

FIND $50,000 INSTEAD OF $425,000 IN VALUET.
New York, March 22.—When attorney for the state of Yucatan, Mexico, accompanied by a deputy sheriff, today opened a vault where it was supposed Gen. Abel Ortiz Arguendo, former governor of Yucatan, had deposited part of the $425,000 belonging to the Yucatan treasury, he brought with him when he fled to this country, it was found between $30,000 and $50,000 in Mexican paper money. There was no gold or silver.

Gen. Arguendo, who persistently refused to give up the money until a "stable government" had been established in Mexico, was sued by the Yucatan treasury officials. Judgment was recently directed against him.

SIX CATHOLIC PRIESTS SENT OUT OF SONORA

Douglas, Ariz., March 22.—Gen. P. Elias Calles, governor of Sonora, has issued a statement that six Catholic priests from Hermosillo and Guaymas, Sonora, have been deported through Nogales, because they were spreading the gospel of strife and intervention instead of the gospel of God.

The action was not one of unfriendliness toward the clergy, but of church and state priests to take the places of the six would be welcomed if they would refrain from all political activity.

TEXAS NATIONAL GUARD MAY BE CALLED OUT, IS BELIEF

Austin, Tex., March 22.—It is believed the Texas National Guard may be called out soon. All Gen. Hutchings and his assistants have been to conference behind closed doors today, it is stated that advice of an important nature are expected from Washington.

During the past few days a number of Texas National Guard officers have been in the department, guard companies are all recruiting to full strength and supplies are being ordered. Camp Mabry is also being put into condition.

CARRERA TORRES GOES TO QUERETARO FOR TRIAL

Mexico City, Mex., March 22.—Carrera Torres, formerly prominent as a general under Villa and Luis Escoto Carranza, the alleged executor of the order of the execution of the state of Chihuahua during the Madero administration, was taken to Queretaro yesterday to be tried by court martial on a charge of rebellion.

way raise a question regarding his loyalty."

Herrera's Brother Held.
Early Wednesday evening, Melchor Herrera, brother of Gen. Luis Herrera, was arrested by El Paso police and locked up. The El Paso officers asserted later that they had advised Gen. Gutierrez in the morning of his detention and that Gen. Gutierrez had asked them to hold him for the Juarez authorities. This was accepted in police circles as meaning that his brother had either revolted or was expected to revolt and that the Juarez officials desired to hold his brother as a hostage.

Many Other Arrests.
With the arrest of Melchor Herrera, six other alleged adherents of the Villa regime in El Paso were arrested. Herrera and the six men who gave the following names are being held in the city jail in close confinement and are not allowed to receive visitors or send out communications. Salas, E. Baragana, Blas Cortinas, Anastasio Chavez, Guadalupe Vera and Juan Vera. The arrests, which were made promptly and without work on the part of the local police, co-operating with the provost officers and state rangers, followed the receipt of information in the possession of Police Morales, who was arrested by police Tuesday night. The papers showed a plan to try to make trouble in El Paso.

Quick Action.
Acting immediately after the papers found on Morales had been translated, six men were arrested by the rangers under the command of Capt. Fox near the weather late Tuesday night. From information obtained from them, Herrera and his confederates were taken into custody Wednesday. In order to round up all Mexicans whose names were connected with the former arrests, the police, provost guard, and its office, department of justice and state rangers are co-operating.

Ernest H. Golden, German consul, arrived from Chihuahua on 5:30 o'clock train Thursday morning and brought the information from the interior city that there was and had been no demonstration against foreigners in that city.

No Revolt, Says Consul.
"I left Chihuahua Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock," said Mr. Golden, "and up to that time there was nothing whatever to indicate any trouble. On Tuesday I saw Gen. Luis Herrera and there was nothing in his conversation or his actions to indicate any intention but a desire to carry out the instructions of the first chief."

"I do not know anything about the garrison in Chihuahua, nor do I place any credence in the report of the large number of men that are reported to be stationed there now. I have been under the impression that the major portion of the Chihuahua garrison is now in the field operating against Villa. You may state positively for me that the rumor of trouble of an insurrectionary or revolutionary character in Chihuahua is without foundation."

Mr. Golden was the only member of the foreign colony to come to the border on the Wednesday train. He said that the members of the foreign colony are all safe, and aside from the unpleasantness of rumors from time to time, things are moving on and without incident to the foreign residents of the interior city.

Wire Open Again.
Gen. Gutierrez of the Juarez garrison, announced Wednesday afternoon that telegraphic communications had been resumed with Casas Grandes and Madera and that details of the engagement with Villa in the Namiquipa district would probably be forthcoming.

A telegram was received about the same time from Gov. Yencio Enriquez, denying emphatically that there was any defection of the garrison in Chihuahua. The governor said that the troops under Gen. Luis Herrera at Chihuahua are not made up of any former Villistas and that there has been no order to the troops to leave since the Constitutionalists entered Chihuahua.

convention and the latter dispatched it to Carranza with the recommendation that it be approved. It would become effective immediately upon being signed.

State department officials insisted during the day that all their reports from the interior of Mexico be sent to the border showed that conditions generally were quiet and dispatches from many points were made public to sustain their statement.

Lawless Return; Take Charge.
Secretary of state Lansing, returning from a week's vacation, took personal charge of the matter as far as it concerned the state department. He conferred with Eliseo Arredondo, Gen. Carranza's ambassador, who presented dispatches from the interior. Gen. Carranza, denying emphatically that Gen. Herrera had revolted with the Chihuahua garrison and joined Villa, "I am confident," he said, "that the proposed protocol for joint action in the pursuit of Villa."

FOCUS ON AIRPLANES

Asks War Department For Eight More Machines, Four To Join Pershing.

San Antonio, Texas, March 22.—Gen. Funston today asked for eight more airplanes. He wants four to go to Columbus to fly with Brig. Gen. Pershing's column and four others to be sent to his headquarters at Fort San Houston to be held for emergency work.

Orders For Rapid Action.
Orders going from Fort San Houston today provided for rapid action at various points along the border should new rebellion in Mexico make it necessary. Gen. Funston was not altogether convinced of the truth of the report that Gen. Luis Herrera, the deposed military leader at Chihuahua, had entered the field with Villa against the United States but the repetition of the story in different places and the absence of acceptable evidence to the contrary caused him and his staff to regard it as probably true.

Staff officers of Gen. Funston studied a more extended area of northern Mexico today. The probable moves of Herrera and his men were carefully studied and at that point along the border where they might disturb the peace of those on the American side, careful note was taken of the positions of American troops and the time it would take to get them to the scene.

Herrera's Action Not Alarming.
That phase of the situation did not alarm the army officers, however, who believed that if Herrera really has revolted his activities will be confined to operations that have for their object the strengthening of Villa's lands and the harassing of Gen. Pershing's force. It was feared that one of his earlier moves would be cutting of the North Western railway over which Gen. Funston hopes to receive permission to move supplies to the American troops, now almost 200 miles into Mexico.

To prevent this move, Gen. Funston is powerless and it is doubted if Carranza's troops are in position to oppose Herrera.

Denies Any Carrancista Revolt.
Reports at headquarters that Gen. Gaviña's garrison at Juarez was about to revolt and that the troops at Torreon were manifesting disaffection were regarded with apprehension at the fort. The Mexican consul here continued to deny their truth and reiterated his assertion that Herrera had not taken the field.

Seventh Cavalry at Las Cruces.
A report from Gen. Pershing was received here Wednesday, but it dealt with affairs of last Monday, saying that it had been reported to him that Villa and the Carranza troops were chased near Namiquipa.

At that time a detachment of the Seventh cavalry had reached Las Cruces, only a few miles north of Namiquipa, and one of the airplanes sent south from Casas Grandes then was in communication with that force.

One Aviator Missing.
The airplane, whose driver is believed to have been Lieut. Correll, reported to be missing south of Casas Grandes, was last seen going over Colonia Juarez, a settlement near Casas Grandes, and a report was received from all but one of the aviator squadron are accounted for, according to reports received by Gen. Funston. These reports show that other machines temporarily out of commission because of accident.

Mexican Papers Counsel Calmness.
The great majority of the Mexican newspapers that have reached here have counseled their readers to remain calm and have refrained from criticizing the United States for sending American troops into Mexico. One of the exceptions was El Democrata, a paper published in Chihuahua city. Under the title "Crown of Treason," it assailed Villa for attacking Columbus, but said the United States should not have sent forces into Mexico.

16TH INFANTRY ARRIVES AT CASAS GRANDES BASE

The 16th infantry, which was engaged at Camp Cotton, reached the army base at Casas Grandes Wednesday evening, according to information received from this command by officials in El Paso.

It is presumed that the Sixth and 16th arrived there at the same time, as they were known to be operating in conjunction along the border.

Sheriff P. J. Edwards is making a daily report to the state officials at Austin regarding the situation along the border in El Paso county.

His reports are made regularly by the sheriff in order to keep the governor and adjutant general informed as to the developments along the border.

SAY WRECKED SHIP WAS TAKING ARMS FOR VILLA

New York, March 22.—The schooner La Providencia, which went ashore on the coast of Mexico last week, was smuggling arms and ammunition for Francisco Villa, according to word received here today by Juan T. Burro, consul general at the state department, from the Mexican ministry of war and marine.

Alfredo Ricot, supposed owner of the schooner, and several other persons on board, were arrested by the Constitutional authorities, the message stated.
